

Certificate of Authority – Frequently Asked Questions 2014

Question	Answer
1. Can new companies, or companies adding a new line of authority, file products for review concurrently with their application for a Certificate of Authority (COA)?	Yes, in order to accommodate federally required timelines, both new companies and companies adding a line of authority may file a product simultaneously with the COA application. If your company plans to take advantage of this option, please notify your assigned risk assessment analyst. updated 2/13/14
